"After 10 quotes and four one-to-one meetings with different builders, Tudor was who we went with! They were professional, nice and knowledgeable right from the start."

Bijal, St Albans, Hertfordshire

"I live abroad and didn't know how I was going to project manage my extensive renovation from 6,000 km away. I needn't have worried. Tudor took control from the outset."

Robert, St Albans, Hertfordshire

"It has now been over three years since our extension has been completed and we are still delighted with it, the quality of the workmanship is evident, and we would not change a thing."

Celine, St Albans, Hertfordshire

St Albans Conservation Area

This project involved the complete transformation of an existing bungalow into a sophisticated contemporary family home, combining modern design with timeless craftsmanship. The remodel created a striking open-plan living space featuring vaulted ceilings, exposed oak trusses and bespoke detailing, bringing a sense of openness, warmth and character to the heart of the home.

Large-format aluminium glazing and sliding doors maximise natural light while creating a seamless connection between the interiors and surrounding gardens. Externally, the property was enhanced with carefully matched brickwork, new roofing elements and landscaped terraces to blend the original structure with the contemporary design.

Inside, bespoke oak features, premium finishes and considered lighting details create a refined and welcoming home that balances traditional craftsmanship with modern living. A complete transformation showcasing thoughtful design, quality materials and exceptional attention to detail.

Central Harpenden Project

Tudor Design & Build fully transformed this detached family home in Harpenden into a truly standout property. The project involved a complete reconfiguration of the internal layout, with the kitchen being the only room to remain in its original position. Extensive works included both ground and first-floor extensions, along with a brand-new roof that now features striking glass-abled bedrooms and dramatic vaulted ceilings.

The staircase was repositioned to maximise flow through the home, while a state-of-the-art cinema room was created on the ground floor. Throughout, bespoke joinery was designed and installed, from floating shelves and wall panelling to made-to-measure fitted wardrobes. Externally, Western Red Cedar cladding wraps seamlessly from the front to the rear, giving the property a warm, contemporary character that complements its bold architectural features.

South St Albans Project

A masterful transformation of a standard bungalow into a stunning, spacious home ideal for multi-generational living. This extensive project involved removing the original roof to add a new first floor, a significant increase in square footage. Complementing this, a sleek single-storey rear extension was built, creating expansive, light-filled ground floor spaces. The project also included a full internal reconfiguration and a garage conversion to maximize utility.

The back of the home is a design highlight, featuring striking black-trimmed bi-fold doors that open the contemporary living room and dining area directly onto the garden, offering an excellent indoor-outdoor lifestyle.

From the charmingly refreshed front exterior to the bright, open modern interior, this Tudor Design & Build project is a flawless example of transforming a simple bungalow into a luxurious, functional family residence.

St Albans Project

"Every member of the team brought an incredible work ethic, always going above and beyond to ensure everything was done to perfection."

Kuntal & Mark

This project involved a full refurbishment of the home, including significant structural changes to enhance both functionality and aesthetics. Our team was commissioned to create multiple specialist joinery pieces, including five hidden doors providing seamless access to the home office, boot room, downstairs WC, den, and home gym.

Working closely with the architect and interior designer, we brought bespoke design elements to life, ensuring a flawless integration of craftsmanship and style.

Wheathampstead Project

"If you are looking for a complete one-stop service from architects to project management, they are the company for you. Tudor completely transformed our downstairs and we now have a space that works perfectly for our family. No request was too big or small and their electricians, plumbers and carpenters offered great advice. Their work was first class."

Steve & Kelly

This is a stunning home refurbishment in the popular village of Wheathampstead. By making key internal adjustments and reconfiguring the layout, we transformed this family home into a beautifully open and functional living space. Ideal for both family dinners and entertaining.

Harpenden Project

"I started my building project with a long list of worries/concerns. I live abroad and didn't know how I was going to project manage my extensive renovation from 6,000 km away. I needn't have worried. Tudor took control from the outset. Tudor Design and Build were a fantastic team to work with and I would have no reservations recommending them."

- Robert

This comprehensive design and build project involved transforming a poorly planned loft conversion and extending the property with a new ground and first-floor rear extension. We completely refurbished and reconfigured the room layouts throughout the house to enhance functionality and flow.

Redbourn Project

"The quality of Tudor's work is superb. They were patient and considerate with the many holdups we had due to conservation issues and were very willing to offer advice on some of the compromises we had to make."

Lucy & John

We had the privilege of extending and renovating this charming Grade II listed thatched cottage, a project that required meticulous attention to detail due to the special regulations and approvals needed for such a historic property.

Our enhancements included the addition of elegant new bathrooms, downstairs WC, the relocation of the kitchen into a beautifully designed rear extension, and the creation of a utility room and extra WC. To preserve the cottage's timeless character, the extension's roof was crafted using carefully chosen materials that balanced durability with aesthetic harmony, all while meeting Local Authority guidelines.

Inside, the uniquely shaped bedrooms called for creative thinking. We collaborated closely with our clients to design bespoke ensuite solutions that maximized space while delivering both functionality and beauty.

"Building is not just about shelter. It's about realising dreams, making statements, creating spaces where life happens." — John Aarons
